

Employee Handbook

Policies and Procedures

Chapter 1: Workplace Conduct

All employees are expected to maintain professional conduct at all times while on company premises or representing the organization in external settings. This includes interactions with colleagues, clients, and business partners.

1.1 Dress Code

Business casual attire is the standard for all office-based employees. Client-facing staff should wear business formal when attending external meetings. Specific department guidelines may apply and will be communicated by your direct manager.

1.2 Communication Standards

All internal and external communications should be professional, clear, and respectful. Email correspondence must use the company template and include an appropriate signature block. Response times for client inquiries should not exceed 24 business hours.

1.3 Confidentiality

Employees must safeguard all proprietary information and trade secrets. Sharing confidential materials with unauthorized parties is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination. Non-disclosure agreements must be signed by all new hires before accessing restricted systems.

Chapter 2: Leave and Attendance

Regular attendance is essential to maintaining team productivity and meeting organizational goals. All absences must be reported to your manager before the start of the business day.

2.1 Paid Time Off

Full-time employees accrue 15 days of paid time off per calendar year during their first three years of service. Accrual increases to 20 days after the third anniversary and 25 days after the eighth anniversary. Unused PTO may be carried over up to a maximum of 5 days into the next calendar year.

2.2 Sick Leave

Employees are entitled to 10 days of paid sick leave per year. A physician's note is required for absences exceeding three consecutive days. Sick leave cannot be used for vacation purposes and is subject to verification by HR.

2.3 Parental Leave

Primary caregivers are eligible for up to 16 weeks of paid parental leave following the birth or adoption of a child. Secondary caregivers are eligible for 6 weeks. Leave must be requested at least 30 days in advance when possible.

Chapter 3: Performance and Development

The company is committed to employee growth through structured feedback, mentorship, and continuous learning opportunities.

3.1 Annual Reviews

Performance reviews are conducted annually in Q4. Each review includes a self-assessment, manager evaluation, and goal-setting session for the following year. Promotion and compensation decisions are informed by the review process but are not automatically tied to review ratings.

3.2 Training Programs

All employees have access to an annual professional development budget of $2,500. This may be applied to conferences, certifications, online courses, or relevant book purchases. Requests must be submitted through the learning management system and approved by your manager.

3.3 Mentorship

New employees are paired with an experienced mentor for their first six months. The mentorship program covers onboarding, cultural integration, and professional guidance. Mentors and mentees meet at least biweekly during the program period.

This handbook is a living document and is subject to revision. Employees will be notified of material changes via company email.
